Mr. N. Longworth and parly ente hompson, at Cairo last night, announces that the Charles Morgan will pass Mem-phis for New Orleans at noon to-morrow.

THE Joe Peters brought 635 bales of cotimbers, these frequently being doubled and there can be no doubt she has mor weight about her to-day than ever before, and we can't understand how it is—but now drawing more than a foot less water than when she came to this port, unless it is because Ad. has given her better shape than she ever had. She draws less water at every point than before, being not over 4 feet under the wheelhouses, the deepes place, and about two feet six inches for piace, and about two feet six inches forward. We remember, also, that the E. W. Cole, repaired here lately, went away drawing nearly eight inches less water without any increase to the size of her hull, which is the case of the Dean Adams, and we can only put it down as something remarkable, and give the credit to scientific workmanship."
